Summer . . .

The time of returning for former students to the amosphere of formalized learning, and once again becoming a segment of college vivacity.

It was the time of a watermelon feast staged underneath the lacy-patterned palm trees;
the time of a beauty contest; the time when a summer play and musical production dominated the cultural scene.

Summertime found students on the verge of discovery.
It was a time when coeds escaped the sultry sun by refreshing themselves in the Tejas Room.

It was the time for couples seeking solitude from the everyday occurrences to contemplate the future.

This was Summer, 1965.

What You Will Read

The El Rancho is a result of collective efforts by the staff to present an accurate, meaningful reflection of the campus, the people, and the year.

As in previous years, the editors of the yearbook have had a main decision to make: "What do we want to accomplish and can we do it?" After preliminary research in past yearbooks and modern magazines, the staff chose the theme of the seasonsmeaning that campus activities and notable events would be viewed according to each season. The theme begins with the colored photographs and concludes as two seniors are viewed graduating in May.

Combining ideas, the staff has also attempted to present a yearbook for four types of readers: the students, faculty, non-students, and for readers who will read the annual ten years from today.

A major portion of the book underwent changes such as the new divisions created this year. These divisions include the Personalities division, presenting students who have received coveted honors either by election or selection; Performing Arts division, emphasing the cultural aspect of the college; and also a Features section, stressing the picture-story of occurrences not always emphasized on campus.

The staff hopes that the readers will enjoy this edition-the 1966 El Rancho.

Fall . . .

The time of preparation for the long term as students endured
the hectic registration, settled into dormitories, and commuters sought opportune carpools.

It was the time to participate in get-acquainted festivities, to vote in campus elections, and to join college organizations.

Fall was the time football players equipped themselves for the spotlight.
It was a time to observe dramatic presentations where students had an opportunity for creative oral expression.

And Fall was the new student surveying the college with its arches and Spanish-tiled roofs, wondering what the future at Texas A&I held for him.

This was Fall, 1965.

The President's Message

Dear Students:

The 1965-1966 college year has fallen within an era of excitement and challenge. The speed with which data can be processed, with which man can travel, and with which new ideas can emerge is staggering to the imagination. Throughout the entire world peoples suppressed by poverty, hunger, ignorance, and prejudice are seeking to arise.

Motivation by passionate zeal, illogical reasoning, and distorted truth arises on every hand. My challenge to you is to know yourself, to know what you believe and why you believe it, and to temper your actions with logic and reason.

My dream for this college is that students who attend here will not attend simply because it is convenient, but rather because its total program of work is excellent. The greatest challenge to mankind today is to learn how to live with others peacefully. The only lasting contribution which one can make is service to his fellowman through what he does or says. My desire for all of you, then, is that the experiences which you have had at this college will inspire you to render a more worthwhile service to your fellowman.

Sincerely yours,

President Jernigan pointed out the country of Thailand to Mrs. Jernigan, son Jim and daughter Laura as the college's first family planned their round-the-world trip.

The Jernigans Travel to Thailand

One of the highlights of Dr. James C. Jernigan's career as college president of $A & /$ was his trip to Thailand.

He participated in the 1965 administrative internship program of the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education held in Thailand during July.

A&I, one of nine colleges participating, was the only Southern institution selected for the program. Participation in the program required that the president of the institution go to a country designated by the sponsoring organization. The trip was financed by the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education and the U.S. Department of State through its Agency for International Development.

President Jernigan, his wife and two children, Laura and Jim, left International Airport in Corpus Christi, July 16. Their flight to Thailand took them to London, Paris, Beruit, Jerusalem, and across India to Bangkok, Thailand, where they stayed from July 4 until July 24. Their return flight took them to Hong Kong, Tokyo, and Hawaii.

During their stay in the Far East, President Jernigan studied the higher educational system of Thailand and made suggestions on how it might be improved.

Under a reciprocal arrangement, two Thailand educators spent several months as administrative interns at A&I. They were Dr. Pannas Hannarkin, head of the faculty of Ban Saen College, a branch of the Bangkok College of Education, and Miss Opal Wattha, a lecturer in the College of Education and a member of the staff of the Thai Ministry of Education.

President Jernigan greeted the two educators from Thailand as they arrived at the International Airport in Corpus Christi.

Texas A&I Has A Birthday  .....College Started 40 Years Ago

To mark the 40th anniversary of the college. Texas A&l's former football coaches gathered during Homecoming. At the history-making celebration were Gilbert E. Steinke, present head coach and director of athletics, Dewey $A$. Mayhew, the college's third head coach and presently assistant professor of government, A. Y. (Bud) McCallum, the second head coach in Texas A&l's history, and L. J. (Neighbor) Smith, the man who started football at the college in 1925.

Forty years ago, Texas College of Arts and Industries was born. The parental Texas Legislature named the infant institution South Texas State Teachers College when it opened for the 1925-26 school year. It was STSTC until 1929, when it took its present name.

The first president of the college, Dr. Robert B. Cousins, and a faculty of 21 members welcomed the first students. That first session of college work, which started June 8, 1925, there were 114 college students, 99 in normal school, and 63 in sub-college. The sub-college was established to give future teachers a place to do their student teaching. This year the college, under the leadership of President James C. Jernigan, enrolled 4,563 students. The faculty has grown to include 188 full-time members, 4 part-time members, and 45 graduate assistants.

That first year the campus had only two build-ings-the Old Administration Building and the President's Home. Today it has grown to a complex of modern yellow brick buildings set upon expanses of green lawn. March 26, 1966, saw the dedication of the most recently completed structure, The Sam Fore Jr. Hall which houses English, government and history.

Construction began in the fall on a dormitory complex to house 400 students. Built with four wings going from a central building which will contain a dining hall, living room, and miscellaneous rooms, the new dorm will be completed by September 1966.

Forty years of educational excellence in South Texas is only a beginning, however; the college looks forward to continued progress. By 1972 Texas A&l is expected to enroll over 8,000 students. A master plan of construction has been designed to help provide the physical facilities needed to give adequate accommodations for a first-class education for the thousands of Texas A&l students yet to come.

Spring . . .

The time when South Texas flowers burst forth and blossoms adorned the campus with splendor.

Springtime at $A & 1$ was the art student working at his easel in preparation for an exhibit.

It was the time
the social limelight turned on the Royal Lantana Court.

It was the time of students competing in rodeos, their horses disturbing the crusted earth.
Springtime was the eagerness of graduation for the senior,
Preparation of a degree plan for the junior,
A sign of maturity for the sophomore,
And a sigh of relief for the freshman.
This was Spring, 1966.

Students, faculty, and children enjoyed the watermelon feast held on the lawn in front of the SUB.

Summertime-1965

A total of 2,276 students set a new summer session record at A&l for the first day of registration on June 7. By July 16, 2,443 were enrolled for the summer session, making the highest summer enrollment in the history of the college.

Other eventful happenings included the Jernigans' earth-circling trip to Thailand; English Professor Norman McNeil's appointment to the presidency of Sul Ross State College; and the A&I Band's participation at the World's Lions Convention in Los Angeles.

Summer entertainment included a musical, speech play, a Broadway production, a beauty contest, and a watermelon feast.

Students waited in the shade to register for the summer session.

Sandra Niemann posts a sign during election time. A major event during the fall season is the campus-wide elections for the Homecoming and Lantana courts. Twelve coeds ran for the Homecoming court and 21 coeds ran for the Lantana court.

Entertainment was well received during get-acquainted events.

Fall-1965

Classes began on September 20 for A&I students. The fall enrollment reached a total of 4,563 students which was the highest total in 40 years.
Fall activities included Dad's Day, Homecoming, the Fall carnival, the Shakespeare play, campus-wide elections and other campus events.

On the academic scene lectureship series opened Oct. 18 and continued throughout the year. Lecturing were Dr. Edwin R. Bogusch, Dr. John C. Rayburn, Ben P. Bailey, and B. Stanley Bittinger.

Two Thailand educators, Dr. Panas Hannarkin and Miss Opal Wattha, began their six-month administrative internship in October.

Construction also began on the $$ 1,172,000$ dormitory complex which will house 400 students. It will be completed by Sept. I, 1966.

Winter-1965-66

Club parties, open house festivities in the dorms, dances and students playing Santa Claus highlighted the winter activities at A&I.
The annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony took place Dec. 14, followed by a Christmas address by President Jernigan. The ceremony was started two years ago in an effort to increase Yuletide spirit on the campus.
On the cultural scene the Opera Workshop presented the opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors" Dec. 13-14 in Jones Auditorium. The opera, by Gian-Carlo Menotti, was accompanied by the A&I Civic Symphony and was open to the public.

Students shouted "We Want Out" as they marched down the middle of College Boulevard Dec. 8 carrying signs protesting the starting date of the Christmas holidays. The organizers of the march gathered the group together in front of the library and a sit-in was staged with the singing of folk songs and impromptu speeches. Despite all the merriment of the march, A&l students still came to school the two days they had hoped would be turned into holidays.

Concluding the Christmas festivities at A&I, students were asked what they wanted for Christmas in the South Texan. The answers ranged from a four-F draft rating to five extra holidays.
When the Christmas rush was over, students settled down to final exams. Then the spring semester started with a visit from the Serendipity Singers. The songsters performed in Jones Auditorium to a more-than-capacity audience under the auspices of the Artists Course Committee.

Another first for the Artists Course Committee was the presentation of a retrospective art exhibit of Cecil Casebier's works. One of the southwestern artist's paintings was selected by student voting to be purchased by the college.

Spring-1966

With the favorable spring weather found in South Texas, there are numerous campus activities held during this season.

During March, the annual Military Ball is held, the Miss A&I contest, and the band concert provides fun and entertainment.

The largest social celebration came on April 1-2 when the Lantana festivities were held. Other April activities included Western Week, Student Council election and the Aggie Round-Up.

Wrapping up the school year was the month of May when many an eager senior awaited Commencement exercises on May 28, 1966.

And so from summer of 1965 until May 28, 1966, each college day has provided a meaningful experience for A&I students.

The Royal  Court

The Fish class pooled their imagination and skills and created the best float for their Lantana Lady. Carol Bitter. The float depicting the $A & l$ emblem received first place and a revolving trophy. The Lantana parade was reinstated this year.

Lantana Honors 40th Birthday

Lantana, 1966 started Friday, April I, with the Lantana Coronation and the presentation of 56 high school duchesses representing South Texas schools.
"The Fortieth Birthday of A&I" was the name of the entertainment presented before, the royal court. Speech students did a skit featuring a hero called The Anteater, poking fun at the current Batman television series. "The Original Sound of Folk Music," by Elaine Farmer and Brian Leggett, and "The Modern Sound of Folk Music," by The Folksters, were part of the entertainment which showed up when auditions for the show were held by Robert Scott, general chairman of Lantana.

Lela Ann Stephenson and Mike McQuerrey did a dance. The entertainment portion of the coronation was climaxed with the music department's Shakespearean production. The singers performed a musical version of Macbeth, using the music of Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Friday events were topped with a carnival, the first Lantana Carnival in the celebration's history. College organizations erected booths on the Mall, music was provided for dancing, and a stereo was given away as a doorprize.

On Saturday events started at 1:30 p.m. with a parade through the downtown area of Kingsville. There were 35 moving groups in the parade, including eight floats, two drill teams, and three bands.

The Lantana Coronation production was presented again Saturday evening, this time with the presentation of the college organizations' duchesses.

Final Lantana event was the Coronation Ball, held in the Student Union Building. Music was provided by the Blue Notes and the Headstones.

Munching on cotton candy, this A&I coed was one of several students who enjoyed the Lantana Carnival. It was the first time in 37 years that a carnival was added to the celebration. The carnival included 17 booths sponsored by various organizations.

Lantana entertainment included "The Modern Sound of Folk Music" by The Folksters.

Queen Regent Carole Meyer Harton relinquished her crown to Jen Evelyn Guthridge, Lantana Queen, 1966

A&l students did a take-off on the Batman series which included an Anteater.

Lantana Queen Jen Evelyn Guthridge

Jen Evelyn Guthridge, A&l's Lantana Queen, has received several honors throughout her college career. The 21 -year-old home economics major from Sinton was sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega for this highlight honor of her college career.

The Lantana Queen has been a freshman calendar girl; Alpha Tau Omega's sweetheart; ROTC Cadet Lady; ROTC Honorary Cadet Colonel Lady; ROTC band sweetheart; National ROTC Princess; Lantana Lady and Homecoming Queen in 1964.

Other honors include being head twirler and feature twirler for the A&I band; Alpha Delta Pi's rush chairman; Student Union Governing Board committee chairman; Gold Jackets member; and being selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Ladies-in Waiting

Young Republican Club

The Young Republican Club encourages its members to participate in the activities of the Republican party, and members get practical political experience as they help campaign for Republican candidates in election years. The group distributes literature and invites spokesmen for the Republican party to speak on campus.

Sarah Jane MacNeil and Mariana Page give Nancy Thompson pointers as Young Republicans help address and distribute Republican literature.

Young Democratic Club

The Young Democratic Club is organized to carry on the principles and traditions of the National Democratic party and is open to all students. Political speakers are featured at the club meetings frequently, and club members try to help their party's candidates in election years through literature distribution and fund raising projects.

Circle K International

This is a service organization whose membership stems from the Kingsville Kiwanis Club. At each campus election club members help man the ballot boxes and count votes. As part of their campus beautification project they painted outdoor trash cans with the school colors. With APO the club helped raise funds for the Bronze Javelina, and they were "slaves" for a day to community Kiwanis Club members.

Circle K activities are directed by Eric Zey, treasurer; Jackie Field, vicepresident; Don Newsom, secretary; and Jerry Raddatz, president.

Mutual Interest

Officers for the Hispano Club are Margie Paiz, parliamentarian; Rowena Paiz, vice-president; Santos Cavazos, secretary; Patricio Alba, president; Eduardo Alvarado, reporter; Donald M. Logan, sponsor: Amada Garcia, treasurer.

Students interested in the Spanish language, the history, literature, and art of Spanish-speaking nations, are invited to join the Hispano Club. Through lectures on these subjects, dramatic performances in Spanish, and recitals of Spanish music they are able to increase their knowledge of the language. The club sponsors trips into Mexico and this year made plans to visit Mexico City.

A New Look in ROTC Training.....

Counter-Guerrilla Warfare

Cadets receive their briefing before a patrol. They are told the enemy's location and actions, given information on the terrain, and given instructions on how to accomplish their mission.

A critique on a patrol's movements and the manner in which they accomplished their mission is given by one of the cadet leaders.

A moving patrol silently makes its way through thick underbrush. The men move in formation, trying to keep concealed when possible.

In operation for the first year, the First Ranger Detachment of A&l's First Counter-Guerrilla Company had 35 participating cadets.
Membership in the unit is strictly voluntary. The organization is run entirely by the cadets who plan and conduct all field exercises. These exercises, usually held two or three times a month, may be three to twenty-four hours in length. The four Ranger patrols, acting as counter-guerrillas, meet the aggressors-other volunteer ROTC cadets from outside the Rangers-at one of three locations: the north and south college farm areas and the Kingsville Naval Air Station.
The Ranger Detachment tries to give advanced infantry training in the tactics and techniques of a counter-guerrilla force. The ROTC department believes it instills initiative in the cadets, as well as improves physical fitness and teaches leadership.

Cadet Captain Casey King commands the unit. Advisors are Major Earl E. Perry, Sergeant Major Johnnie J. Salazar, and Ist Sergeant Ellis L. Lawson.

An alert cadet finds a kind of rest for the weary.

The patrol commander's radio operator keeps in touch with headquarters.

S/Sgt. R. W. Crawford issues supplies to Cadet Theron Cole with the help of Cadet Frank Feild. Members of the counter-guerilla warfare unit get a double load.

Cadets Raul Garcia, Bob Walshe, and Ken Rydell get instructions in radio operation from Major Sterling Rodgers,

The culmination of a cadet's career is the swear ing-in ceremony which makes him a second lieu tenant in the United States Army. At mid-term Lt, Col. Pershing Tousley swore in Roberto Rivera Quinton Anderson Jr.. Robert Hunt, John Luster and Peter Zanca.

The Place of Aches, Pains ... and Absence Cards

One of the busy places on campus is the Infirmary. On an average day 65 to 75 students come to see the college doctors. And in intramural football season the number of callers will pass the 100 mark.

Dr. L. E. Ramey is the college's head physician; he specializes in the athletic injuries. Dr. F. B. Higgins and Dr. W. E. Foster alternate on sick call, which is held at 12:30 on all school days.

Three full-time (and one part-time) registered nurses work at the Infirmary under the direction of Lucille Delery. There are also two coed infirmary aides, a male student who does the clean-up work, and another male student who delivers meals from Lewis Hall's cafeteria at lunch and dinner. Breakfast is prepared for bed patients by Infirmary personnel.

The Infirmary is equipped to take care of 16 bed patients under normal circumstances, but in an emergency 29 beds can be set up. Only three times in the last 17 years have all 29 beds been used, and one of those times lasted an entire spring semester-when A&I students took turns having the three-day measles.

Rodeo at A&I

The line-up-Western style. Spectators watched from fence rails and bleachers as students put on the Dad's Day Rodeo and the April $28-30$ rodeo for the Southern Region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

College rodeo contestants in the Southern Region of NIRA, which covers eastern Texas and Louisiana, compete for points. In 1965 Texas A&l's Gene Jones accumulated enough points to compete in the NIRA national finals at Laramie, Wyo.

Students competed in team roping, bull riding, bareback, saddle bronc, steer wrestling, tie-down calf roping, ribbon tying, girls' barrel race and goat tying contests.

Practice helps make perfect, contestants believe. Over 100 college students from 10 different colleges met in April to compete. Nearly 30 other students helped the Rodeo Club stage the event.

Courting-Serenade Style

Since Mexico is situated about 120 miles from Kingsville, the dual culture is often prevalent on the campus. The art of serenading is practiced by these college men as they sing A&l's unofficial fight song "Jalisco" to some coeds living off-campus:
"Ay, Jalisco, Jalisco
Jalisco tu tienes
Tu Novia
Que es Guadalajara.
Muchacha bonita
La perla mas rara
De toda Jalisco
Es me Guadalajara.
Ay, Jalisco no te rajes
Me sale de alma
Gritar con calor.
Abrir todo el pecho
Pechar este grito
Que lindo es Jalisco
Palabra de honor.

Twenty-two Countries Represented on Campus

Sixty foreign students, representing 22 different countries, are enrolled at Texas A&I during 1965-66.

Among the countries represented are Peru, Iraq, Iran, Cuba, Argentina, India, Guatemala, United Arab Republic, Japan, Venezuela, Dominican Republic, Mexico, Greece, Brazil, Libya.

According to Dr. Leo Bailey, foreign student advisor, the majority of foreign students major in engineering, agriculture, math and physics. They have the most difficulty with Englsh, government and history-primarily because they must do so much reading in what, to them, is a foreign language.

Most of the students were first attracted to A&I because of the curriculum opportunities, plus the warm climate.

While in Kingsville the students are provided with a host family. This family entertains the students in their home periodically throughout the year so that the collegian gets a glimpse of American family life as well as American dormitory living.

All of the foreign students now attending the college are undergraduates who plan to return to their own countries when they complete their studies.

Serendipity Singers Sang to Packed House

Before a standing-room-only crowd of students and faculty members that packed Jones Auditorium, the Serendipity Singers told their jokes and sang many of the songs they have recorded.

The group appeared on the Texas A&I campus February 2 under the auspices of the Artists Course Committee.
The seven boys and two girls presented a mixture of songs which were jazz arranged and instrumented, plus a blending of songs that are a combination of the folk, jazz and pop styles. Added to the music were comedy sketches and dramatic blackouts that were designed to appeal to a college audience.

Recently married students Alan and Barbara Weikel combine studying and cooking.

Married Students Combine Two Hectic Roles: Books and Housework

Of the 4,564 students enrolled at this college during the fall semester of 1965, 28 per cent were married.

Several of these married students live in the A&I College Apartments, which consist of 40 one or two-bedroom apartments located on the campus. Other married students make their home in the Javelina Courts or else live off-campus.

Married students agree that being married and attending college has its advantages and disadvantages. Married students have the responsibility of maintaining a home as a family and at the same time keeping up with the academic world as full-time students. Some married couples find that two roles are difficult, while others claim that marriage helps their grades-they have had to settle down.

ready for the big game . . . the first one of the season.

For Gil Steinke it's a time to mold his men into a well-organized team to win ball games for A&I.

To the stadium it's a time for growth and readiness

Rebels Upset Hoggies

For the first time since Gil Steinke took over the top coaching job at A&I, the Javelinas lost the season opener. The surprisingly tough Arlington Rebels handed the Javelinas a 25-7 defeat.

Although the Hogs drew first blood, the night was one of heartbreaks and futile attempts. After a pass from Johnson to Pargmann on the one, Pennick went over to put six points on the scoreboard for the Hogs. King booted between the uprights for the point after and the score was 7-0.

The Rebels began their march early in the second quarter when they went over for a TD. The point after failed and the Hogs maintained their narrow lead. However, late in the quarter the Rebels struck with a 32 -yard field goal and the Hogs never saw daylight again.

The Javelinas marched down to the Rebel 16 before the gun, but couldn't score. The game ended with the score of 25-7.
"You know this could get a man down if he doesn't watch it."

Reserve halfback Pat Walker speaks to the press box via field phone.

Trinity Falls to Javs

Mother Nature turned what was to be an aerial duel into a complete ground game, and the Hogs sloshed to a muddy $15-6$ win over the Trinity Tigers.

The first score was a safety for the Hogs when the ball slipped from the wet hands of the Tiger's quarterback, Les Obie, and Nix and Nietenhoefer tackled him in the end zone. The Tigers never led from that minute on.

After a wide field goal attempt by Upshaw, the Hogs got back into the swing of things with a score from the two by Rolf. The half ended with the Hogs maintaining a 8-0 lead.

With a steady falling rain, neither team could manage a scoring threat in the third quarter.
The first play of the four quarter brought a TD for the tigers when Obie rolled around left end and went in standing up. The Hogs came right back with a 71 -yard run by Johnson to register another TD. Upshaw's kick was wide and the game ended at 15-6.

Bugg takes a whiff of ammonia to clear his head after a hard headhitting session.

Hogs Over Lions

The Javelina offense sputtered throughout much of the game but came rolling back to deliver the Lions a 26 -12 setback.

The first time the Lions had their hands on the ball they scored and it looked like a long hard night for the Hogs, but the determined Javelinas tied the ball game when Hill went over right tackle for the TD.

Late in the second quarter Johnson connected with Nix in the end zone for six. Upshaw made it seven and the Hogs had a respectable halftime lead of 13-6.

The third period saw a TD for each team. Brown over left tackle from the II and the Lion's Guyton in from the 28 for a touchdown.

The final score came in the fourth quarter when Johnson raced from the seven.

The win kept A&I tied with Sul Ross for the LSC leadership.

Javelinas Trounce SFA

The Hogs, using Hill and his running power, upset the highly rated Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks by the score of 43-12.

Everybody wanted to score on the Lumberjacks it seemed as Johnson, Brown, and Rolf added their names to the list of TD makers. Hill went over for three.

Using two quick fumbles to the best advantage, Johnson directed Hill over right tackle from the five for the first of several scores of the night. Rolf went over from the one after a fast pass interception by McDonald to add a little padding to the score. Before the half another seven points went on the scoreboard and the Javs went into halftime with a 21-8 lead.

The second half saw Hill score again from the two. Brown added his six with a breath-taking 62 -yard run and Johnson took the ball over in the last minutes of the game to bring the score to a final 43-12.

Bear Brown finds going rough when he tries to make his cut after a handoff from Johnson.

Hoggies Surprise Cards

The Javelina defense gave the Lamar Tech Cardinals the fight of their life and handed them a $14-6$ defeat to boot.
Other than the two touchdowns, the A&I offensive team got the ball within the Card's 30 -yard line seven times during the game.

The first two Hoggie drives ended in a short field goal attempt and a long penalty. The third drive ended on the Card's 13. The fourth time the Hogs got their hands on the ball they finally scored. Johnson hit over right end from the three and went over for the TD. Point after was good and the Javs led at halftime 7-0.

Midway through the third quarter, Paul Trevino recovered a fumble and set up another A&I touchdown. Johnson hit Freddie Teer with a 15 -yard scoring pass. Upshaw's kick was good.

The Cards came right back with a drive and touchdown of their own, but the score was not enough to top the 14 point lead the Hoggies maintained.

"When there's a hole, take it; when there's not, pray for blockers."

Only a coach could possibly know what is in Steinke's mind now.

Hogs Fall to Lobos

The undefeated Sul Ross Lobos came from behind in the second half to maintain their LSC lead by handing the Javelinas their first conference loss of the season.

The Javs scored the first touchdown of the game midway through the first quarter. Johnson passed to Nix for a 24 -yard touchdown. Upshaw's kick was not good. The Lobos came back in the second quarter with a TD and point after. The game went into halftime with a 7-6 Sul Ross lead.

In the second half the Hogs struck back and gained the lead back with an explosive drive that ended with Johnson crossing the goal from the 24. King's kick was good.

The next time the Javs got their hands on the ball they were gone again, but something happened. Penalties and fumbles gave the Lobos what they wanted and they scored two quick touchdowns to insure a victory.

The defeat gave the Hoggies a $2-1$ conference record.

On the sidelines for a well deserved rest, Weldon Wilson waits for the defense to spring into action.

Javelinas Beat Bearkats

Hard running with a tough defense came together to hand the defending NAIA co-champion Sam Houston Bearkats a 14 - 6 defeat.

Midway through the second quarter the Hogs began their race to victory when Brown dashed 19 yards for a touchdown. The Bearkats took the ball and walked down to the three before the Hoggie defense stiffened and ran the clock out. The half ended with the score $6-0$ in favor of A&I.

The Javs took the second half kickoff and drove 75 yards in 11 plays to draw blood again. Johnson passed 9 yards to Pargmann for the TD. Johnson then passed to Nix for the two-point conversion.

A third quarter touchdown by the Sam Houston squad ended the scoring for the night, even though the Hogs had one TD called back and several strong drives in the fourth quarter.

The win clinched at least a tie for the Hoggies for second place in the Lone Star Conference race.

Javs Shut Out Yellowjackets

Homecoming was a good day for the Hoggies. They posted a $15-0$ shut out victory over the Howard Payne Yellowjackets.

The Javelinas scored in the first minute of the game following a pass interception by Wilburn McDonald. Brown did the honors by racing over from the three. Upshaw added the point after to put the hogs over the Yellowjackets 7-0. The score stood at halftime.

The Hogs scored their final touchdown late in the fourth quarter after a 78 -yard drive on 15 plays. Johnson hit right guard for the final two yards and the TD. With only 21 seconds left in the game, Johnson threw to Pargmann for a two-point conversion.

The victory moved the Hogs into second place in the Lone Star Conference race with a 3-1 record.

Dwayne Nix, freshman end from Kingsville, pulls another pass in and turns upfield.

The Southwest Texas State Bobcats continued their mastery over the Javelinas with a $13-0$ shutout of A&I which threw both teams into a tie with Stephen F. Austin for second place in the LSC.
The Bobcats took an early lead when HB Louie Simmonds raced 69 yards for a TD on the fourth play in the game. A&I came back strong and had a first and goal situation from the SWT 3 when disaster struck. Late in the third quarter A&I WB L. J. Rolf fumbled on a punt return when he ran into his own blocker and the 'Cats recovered. Five plays later Reece Morrison went in for the score. Twice the Javelinas threatened in the second half, but both times Mac Sauls intercepted a pass to kill the drive. James Brown led both teams in rushing with 129 yards on 19 carries.

Carl Smith and the defensive unit wait and watch as tho offense makes a bid for a TD and six points.

As Johnson takes out a potential tackler, Judd hits the fast closing hole for short yordage.

Gil Steinke and Randy Johnson-each one a football legend in their time at A&I.

Randy and James Hill watch from the sideline as the defensive unit takes to the field.

The End of a Legend

Randy Johnson, a legend at A&I, completed his senior year and wrapped up his college football career this season.

During his four years he guided the team to 25 victories and two ties while dropping only eight games.
In the 1965 season he was named to the first team in the Little All-American poll and was picked as second string quarterback for the Lone Star Conference team. In 1964 he was awarded the League's Most Valuable Player Award, picked for the Little All-American team, the All-Lone Star Conference team, and the All-Texas team, plus being named the 'Back of the Week" in the conference.

Johnson will play for the Atlanta Falcons next season.

To climax his college football career, Johnson signs a pro contract with the Atlanta Falcons.

"As You Like lt"

The Footlights Club and the Department of Speech opened its 1965-66 season with the production of Shakespeare's comedy "As You Like It." The play was attended by about 4,000 high school students from South Texas cities besides college students.

The play was one of Shakespeare's liveliest comedies involving cases of mistaken identies, characters in disguise, and complicated obstacles to romance, but had a happy climax in the forest of Arden.

"Blood Wedding"

Written by Federico Garcia Lorca, "Blood Wedding" dealt with the elopement of a young bride with another man on her wedding day during the precivil war times in Andalusia, Spain. The two predominant themes which emerged during the play was Lorca's depiction of the frustration of Spanish women and the concept of death as man's mentor.

Leonardo (Tracy Allee), a former boyfriend of the bride (Connie Edgemond), visits her before her wedding.

The domineering mother (Norma Jimenez) clings to her only living son, the bridegroom (Tommy Johnson), during a poignant scene.

Texas A&I Singers

The A&I Singers are music majors selected by audition only. Students dance and play musical instruments during performances. The 17 -member group is directed by Dr . Lawrence Mc Querrey, professor of music.

The Singers have received high praise for the professional calibre of their performances. They make an annual tour of the Valley and other areas of Texas, performing in public schools and before civic groups.

The Singers toured Germany and France in 1960. Their second overseas assignment was a tour of the Far East, in 1964, when they gave over 50 shows before 25,000 military personnel and foreign nationals. Under the joint sponshorship of the Na tional Music Council and the United Services Organization, they performed in Japan, Korea, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, the Philippines, Guam, and Hawaii.

A&I Band Wins "Best Marching" Title

The Texas A&I Marching Band was proclaimed the "Best Marching Band" in competition with bands from throughout the world in July, 1965 at the world convention of Lions International in Los Angeles.

Under the direction of Joseph Bellamah, 85 members of the band made the week-long trip to compete against 35 other adult bands in a parade down Hollywood Blvd.

The band represented 61 Lions Clubs from 13 South Texas counties.

During the trip the band performed in Phoenix, Ariz., at the Los Angeles Coliseum, the Los Angeles Statler-Hilton Hotel, and on the set of the Warner Brothers' movie "The Great Race."

But not all the band members' time was spent performingthey went sightseeing in the Los Angeles area and spent a day at Disneyland, where they sported Mickey Mouse hats.

Loading instruments and personal luggage required the ability of a skillful packrat.

The band marches past the famous corner of Hollywood and Vine.

Campus Living

Dormitory Life Gives Coeds Opportunities

for  Work,  Study,  Escape,  Fun and  Friendship

If a girl needs a tutor in French she can usually find one by asking up and down her hall. Sue Bohn and Judy Gatti study together.

One of the most important places in any female's roomthe mirror. Getting ready to go out is Barbara Holland.

Some girls can almost take on a moonlighting job, they become so skillful setting their friends' hair. Berta Zavala does a glamour job on Jovita Montalvo.

One of the shouts which girls love to hear echoing down the hall is, "Telephone for you!" Beverly Hentges was called by the bell this time.

Into every midnight-oil burning life a little siesta is welcomed.

Billy Leur feeds his fish in his room. Fish make ideal pets for a dorm-they don't make noise and don't demand much attention.

Cleaning his car's hood in his dorm room is not unusual for Landis Cervenka. Paul Herbert gives him hints on how to get a shinier look.

It's snack time for these three students, Paul Herbert, Landis Cervenka, and Lawrence Noel. Cooking in dormitory rooms is limited to popping corn and making coffee.

Girl-gabbing

The three campus dining halls provide not only food but a place for practical jokers to show their skills and freshmen to demonstrate their talent.

Doug Walters and James Kagy started out studying. but ten-to-one the conversation is now on girls.

Roberto Cortina listens in on one of the students in his language lab, making mental notes of accents that need to be corrected and improper study methods.
Mrs. Barbara Goode shows Esequiel Mata the right attack on a math problem.

Jack Carlisle and Jane Dismukes make arrangements to rent caps and gowns and place orders for graduation invitations as they wind up plans for their May graduation.

Seniors Make Plans For a Different World

Lou Ella Hinze confers with Johnny Johnson, director of Student Placement, as she makes plans for her first job after graduation.

Paula Wakefield tries on a class ring as Darvin Dieringer shows her the large selection on display at the College Store.

They entered Texas A&l in September, 1962. They wore the little green beanies like the freshmen before them and the ones who have come since. They hated pushing peanuts down the dorm hall with their noses, yet they couldn't help but feel a swell of pride when they took their places in the traditional shirttail parade.

They worried about failing physics or Spanish or math or English. Many of them did find it necessary to repeat a course, but they gathered their disappointment to themselves and plowed through a second time.

They painted gawdy posters to support their favorite Lantana candidate. They joined campus organizations. They tried to figure out a way to live off campus legally. They spent hours in the college library and still more hours sitting in cars talking at Skee's and the Malt Shop.

And now this way of life is almost over. They are seniors who have reached the goal-graduation is just ahead.

In all the hustle and bustle, they will mail out invitations, press their gowns, and say good-bye to familiar places on the campus. Many of them already have their plans for the future made. Some of them will go straight into jobs, others will be entering the armed forces, some will be getting married, many will go on to graduate school.

These successful seniors look forward to their new life with eagerness. It will be a sweet sorrow within them when they say good-bye to the friends they have made during their four years of college.

Kathy Rundberg is just one of Texas A&l's coeds who is planning a summer wedding. She and John De Pue will marry in August.

One of the students who plans to go to graduate school is Angel Gutierrez Here he studies one of the catalogues he has received in answer to a letter to a university registrar.
